This browser extension does one thing: it manages accounts and allows the signing of transactions with those accounts. It does not inject providers for use by dapps at this early point, nor does it perform wallet functions, e.g send funds.

The screenshot shows a Google Chrome browser window with a new tab. The polkadot.js extension is installed and its welcome screen is displayed. The background shows the Google search homepage with icons for YouTube, TasksBoard, and Google Keep. The extension's welcome screen has a title 'Welcome' and a list of privacy notes. A red circle highlights the privacy notes, and another red circle highlights the 'Understood, let me continue' button. Red arrows point from Thai text boxes to these elements.

The screenshot shows a web browser with a new tab open. The address bar shows "Search Google or type a URL". The main content area displays the Google homepage. Overlaid on the browser is a "Create an account" dialog box. The dialog box has a title "Create an account 1/2" and a "Cancel" button. It shows a Polkadot logo, a placeholder for a profile picture, and a generated 12-word mnemonic seed: "picture burst champion universe divorce excuse flash breeze rocket weird pig dance". Below the seed is a "Copy to clipboard" button. A warning message states: "Please write down your wallet's mnemonic in a safe place. The mnemonic can be used to recover your assets. Keep it carefully to not lose your assets." At the bottom of the dialog, there is a checkbox labeled "I have saved my mnemonic seed safely." and a "Next step" button.
